Profile

This candidate is based in Waterford in Ireland. They are happy to work fully onsite anywhere within an hour drive away, but after that would be happy to work anywhere in Ireland if some aspect of remote working was included. They would consider working in Cork with 1 day of remote working per week, while for Dublin they would prefer to work remotely 2-3 days per week.

They are looking for a rate of around €450 which would be all inclusive, and would prefer their next role to be Linux based, but are very willing to work in a more DevOps focused role if it means that they receive further training and experience on DevOps related tools.

They have experience working with:

- Linux
- Ansible
- Chef
- Jenkins
- Docker
- Kubernetes

- Red Hat Certified

- Java

- JavaScript

- Python

- MongoDB

- Openshift

- C++

- MySQL

They express their ideas clearly and coherently, and through past experience working in world renowned organisations, they have developed the skill to thrive while working in high pressure, fast paces environments.
